

The Dziedzictwo Kulturowe po Skasowanych Klasztorach [Cultural Heritage of Dissolved Monasteries] series is financed under the Ministry of Science and Higher Education's "National Programme for the Development of Humanities" for 2012-2016. The founder and editor of the series is Marek Derwich.

The series features publications of studies which are results of research carried out under the project Cultural heritage of dissolved monasteries on the territory of former Poland and in Silesia in 18th and 19th centuries: fate, significance, cataloguing (www.kasaty.pl) financed under the Ministry of Science and Higher Education's "National Programme for the Development of Humanities". Project progress reports as well as papers presenting the results of this research are published on an ongoing basis in successive issues of the Hereditas Monasteriorum biannual journal (hm.kasaty.pl).

The successive volumes in the series seek to provide an insight into the cultural heritage of the dissolved monasteries. Most of them are studies or editions of hitherto unpublished source documents. The series also encompasses proceedings of conferences organised under the project as well as studies authored by multiple scholars.

Each volume, in addition to its main content, comprises lists of illustrations, maps, tables and graphs, bibliography, index as well as information about the author (authors).

The original version of the series is the printed version, but the series is also available online free of charge under the CC BY 4.0 licence.

All books published in the series are reviewed.
